

Edvard Grieg

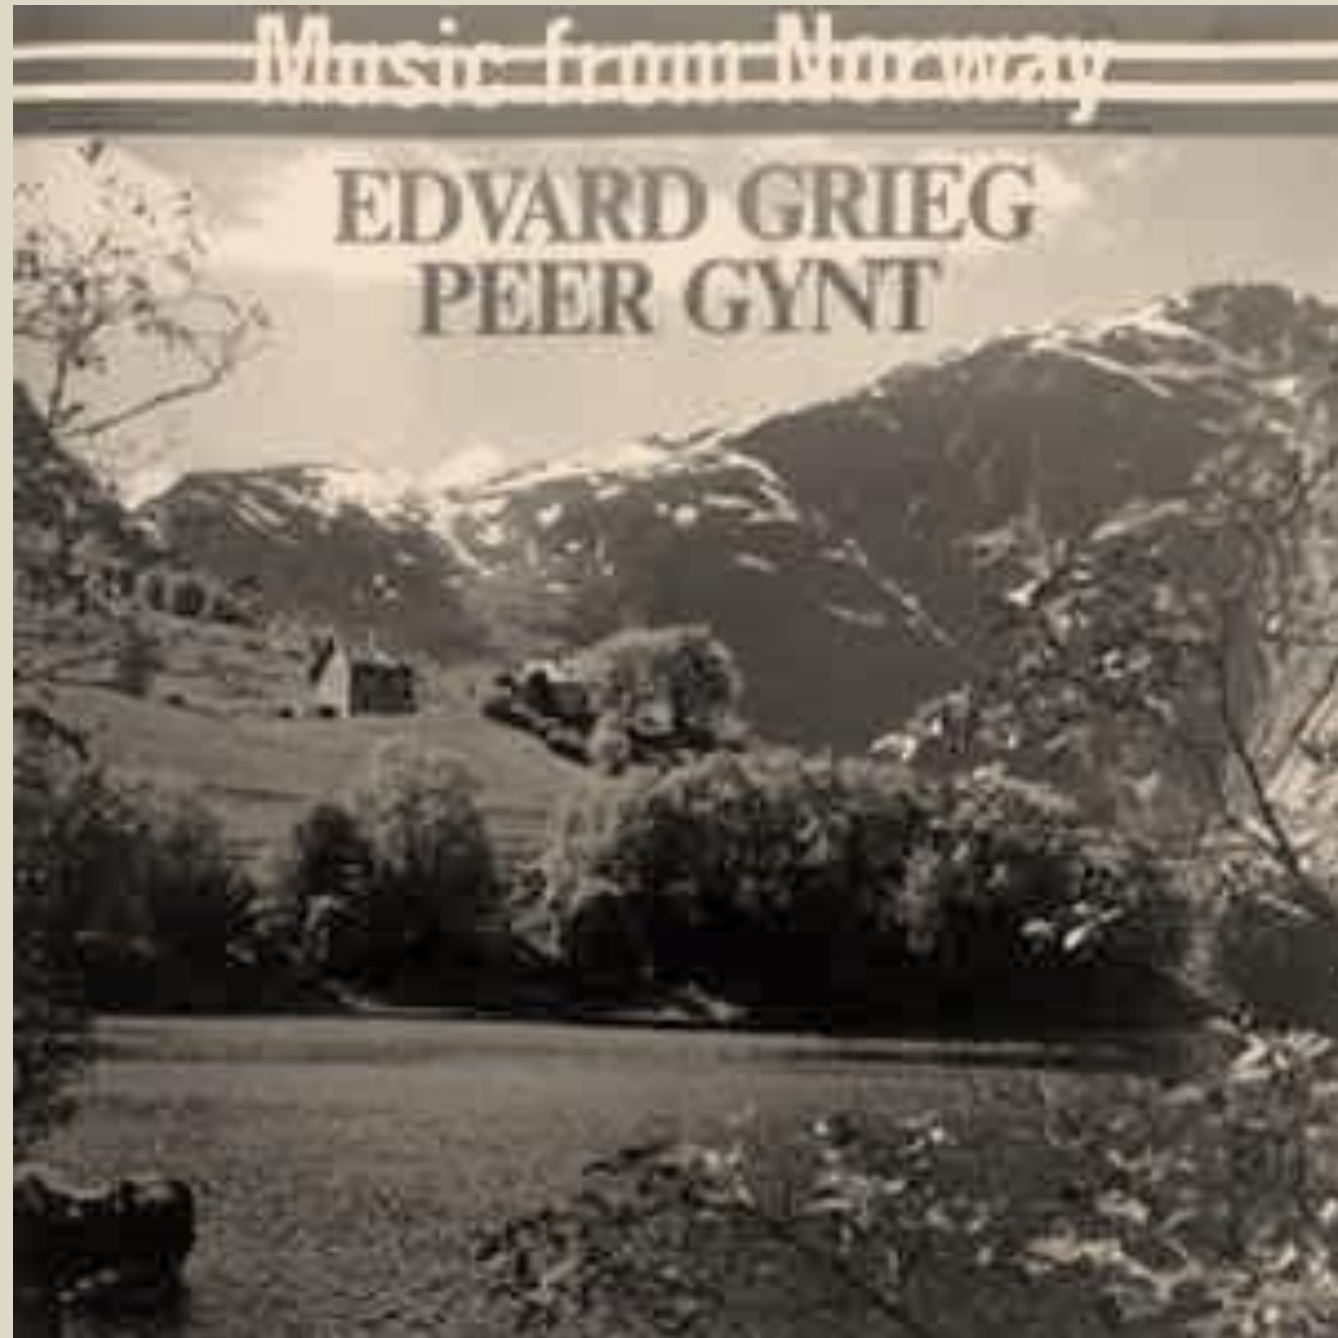

CONTEXT

Edvard Grieg (1843 – 1907) was a Norwegian composer of the Romantic era. He is regarded as one of the Romantic era's main composers, and incorporated many Norwegian folk music into his pieces. Grieg was also the founder of the Norwegian nationalists school of music.

Grieg composed many pieces, though he was most notably known for his Piano Concerto & various Sonatas, as well as his music written for the play Peer Gynt, including the immensely popular 'In the Hall of the Mountain King.'
